Col. Lindbergh Says U. S. Safe From Air Raids

Air Attacks From Europe Not To Be Feared In Near Future

LINDBERGH GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

Indicates Airplane Development Is Subject To Rapid Change, However

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—The United States is safe from air attack from Europe "in the predictable future," Col. Charles A. Lindbergh told a house appropriations subcommittee in secret session.

This was disclosed by members of the committee today, following appearance of Lindbergh with other officials of the national advisory committee for aeronautics to urge establishment of a $10,000,000 research station at Sunnyvale, Calif.

Unsurpassable Barrier
While Lindbergh told members that the Atlantic Ocean now presents an unsurpassable barrier for an attack by European nations on this country through the air, he carefully limited his statement to the development of aviation as he now sees it. By inference he told the subcommittee that no knows to what heights aviation development may soar.

Although congress previously rejected a presidential budget recommendation for immediate expenditure of $4,000,000 for the Sunnyvale station, with the national advisory committee being given authority to contract for an additional $6,000,000, it appeared probable that the subcommittee would recommend the appropriation.

Colonel Lindbergh reiterated that the United States lags behind foreign nations in research. He not only recommended the Sunnyvale station, but foresaw the necessity of establishing another research station in the future. He indicated that it should be in the middle West—at least some distance from the coast. The advisory committee's great research station now is at Langley Field, Va.

Lindbergh praised the research activities of colleges and universities in the field of aviation development. Repeatedly he returned to praise their work during his testimony.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Every motorist is familiar with the little highway signs which tell of curves, intersections and crossroads. These signs must be kept clean, but Pa New never had the pleasure of seeing how it was done until the other day when he was driving about six miles from this city. There was a sign that told of a cross roads, and three men, with rags, were busily engaged in cleaning it. Two of the men were working on the front of the sign, and one on the back. This unequal division of labor struck us as very unfair. There should have been two on the front side and two on the back.

Former County Commissioner F. M. Davis of Wampum, who was in the city yesterday, is feeling pretty chummy over the fact that the borough is to have a modern sewage system, with a disposal plant and all the trimmings. Davis says that the work of laying the sewers is well under way, and that the borough is now ready to advertise for bids for the disposal plant.

George L. Ryan, Pittsburgh, district salesman of the Erie Forge company, and a former New Castle resident, was here calling on friends yesterday, and recalled many incidents of former years. Mr. Ryan's father, Frank Ryan, was one of the men who started the New Castle Forge & Bolt works, around 1900.

McNutt Named By Roosevelt

Nomination As Head Of F. S. A. Sent To Senate By President

By GEORGE E. DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt today sent to the senate the nomination of Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, to be head of the important new Federal Security Administration.

The nomination was announced shortly before McNutt, retiring U. S. high commissioner to the Philippines, called at the White House.

Naming of McNutt to the choice government post, coupled with McNutt's frequent White House visits, led political observers to predict that the former governor had the inside track for the vice presidential nomination in 1940 in the event the president himself decided to run for a third term.

Next Danzig Move Is Up To Germany

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 11.—Warlike or peaceful, the next move in Europe's tense "game of Danzig" is up to Germany.

Statesmen and diplomats in London, Paris, and Warsaw held this view today after Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's clear, but not uncompromising, declaration that Britain will fight up to the side of Poland in case of any internal or external coup affecting Danzig.

While deferring the present status of Danzig, Chamberlain pointed out that it "may be capable of improvement."

But negotiations, he stressed, would require a "clearer atmosphere."

Confidence Disturbed
"Recent developments in the free city have disturbed confidence and rendered it difficult at present to find an atmosphere in which reasonable counsels can prevail," he told the house of commons.

Poland is maintaining a calm and even placatory attitude, therefore, diplomats believe, it is time for the Reich to provide the atmosphere in which it will be possible to begin negotiations.

In brief, Chamberlain pointed out that it "may be capable of improvement."

House Sub-Committee In Special Session On W. P. A. Protest On Wages

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A house appropriations subcommittee on relief today dashed cold water on hopes of thousands of striking WPA workers for changes in the 1939-1940 relief law.

Not only did the subcommittee fail to take any action at a meeting today but it applauded the "vigorous" stand WPA commissioner F. C. Harrington has taken in the relief crisis.

By DAMON RUNYON, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The house appropriations subcommittee on relief appropriations, which drafted the 1939-40 relief act, met in special session today to consider the nation-wide wave of protest strikes against a provision in the act terminating the prevailing wage rate.

There was little indication, however, that the committee would take any legislative steps. Acting Chairman Woodrum (D) of Virginia, said he believed the members "ought to get together and talk over the situation." Bills now pending in the senate and house would wipe out the controversial provision and restore the prevailing rate demanded by both the CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

As the house subcommittee met at Minneapolis, Minn., policemen—three times the usual working force—were on duty to guard non-striking WPA projects and prevent repetition of last night's riot between strikers and police, one of whom was beaten to death.

Secret Agent Says Bridges Is Communist

Bridges, On Other Hand Declares That Witness' Story Is False

By HAROLD HEROUX
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ANGEL ISLAND, San Francisco, July 11.—A secret agent who "put the finger" on Harry Bridges, West Coast CIO director, today faced a "Bridges" fight against deportation.

The government witness was 57-year-old Major Lawrence A. Milner, of the Oregon National Guard Reserve, who swore he had "bored his way" into the inner circles of the Communist party and learned its most guarded secrets.

According to Milner, Bridges is one of the most active Communists in America. His investigations disclosed, Milner testified, that the Australian-born labor leader advocated use of violence in a plot to overthrow the government of the United States.

Bridges, who took the stand at the opening of the hearing, admitted he was an alien but denied he was ever connected with the Communist party. He scoffed at Milner's sensational testimony against him.

"Milner's story is a good laugh," said Bridges. "That's all I'll say now. But I'll have plenty more to say later."

Bridges' counsel promised to blast Milner's story "to pieces." It was indicated that the Oregon military intelligence aide would be under fire of the defense lawyers throughout the day.

School Building Near Pittsburgh Is Fire Ruined

Loss Of $100,000 At Bethel Township Building—Cause Of Fire Unknown

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—Ten rooms in the Bethel township high school building were wrecked today by a $100,000 fire which raged for four hours before being brought under control by five fire departments.

Records of all the pupils who ever attended the school were destroyed in the blaze. Water pressure in the district was so low that firemen had to throw rocks through the windows to break the glass and permit the streams of water to enter the building.

Smoke-eaters from Castle Shannon, Broughton, South Park and Mt. Lebanon were summoned to help the Bethel township firemen. Mt. Lebanon's new $16,000 pumper was maneuvered into action and eight hose lines were attached.

Cause of the fire, which was discovered at 1:45 a. m., two hours after the township commissioners had held a meeting in the building, was undetermined.

Bethel township chief John Misunas said the blaze apparently started in a library on the first floor, east wing, and spread through a four-foot air-space between the tar roof and the third floor ceiling. A new four-room wing, being built with PWA help, was undamaged.

Minneapolis Calls Out Every Police Officer For Duty

Action Follows Clash In Which Officer Was Killed And Many Persons Hurt

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Every available policeman—three times the usual working force—went on duty in Minneapolis today to guard WPA projects and prevent repetition of yesterday's bloody rioting by WPA strikers in which a policeman was killed and many persons were beaten and cut.

Despite the precautions, however, further trouble was feared as efforts were to be made to operate all projects as usual in the face of a strike by more than 5,000 workers in the city in protest against the longer working hours decreed by the new relief act enacted by congress.

The rioting yesterday, described by authorities as the worst since the outbreaks during the truck strike in 1934, occurred when some 300 pickets and sympathizers sought to attack a group of non-striking men on a sewing project who were being escorted from their jobs by a police detail.

Committee Of Senate Votes Against Action

By 12-11 Vote Senators Favor Holding Issue Over To Next Congress

ACTION IS DEFEAT FOR ADMINISTRATION

Some Democrats Desert Administration On Show-down Vote In Committee

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The senate foreign relations committee voted today—12 to 11—to postpone consideration of a new national neutrality policy until the next session of congress convenes in January.

The action constituted a major defeat of administration forces supporting President Roosevelt's demands for action now, principally on the proposal to lift the mandatory embargo on shipment of U. S. arms to warring nations.

Administration-sponsored neutrality legislation would put into effect the president's plan to use all methods "short of war" to stop Europe's dictators and provide economic aid for the democracies abroad.

One More Move
With the committee's action, the administration has one more legislative aid—to move on the floor of the senate that the committee be discharged from consideration of neutrality legislation. If successful, this would bring the issue to immediate debate.

Committee members voting to postpone consideration of neutrality legislation at this session were: Senators Vandenberg (R) Michigan, Borah (R) Idaho, LaFollette (P) Wisconsin, Gillette (D) Iowa, (Continued On Page Two)

TOKYO, July 11.—Soviet airplanes heavily bombed the towns of Nomotomoso and Chianchun-miao and other points east of the Khaba river on the Manchukuo outer Mongolian frontier during the night, Japanese field dispatches said today.

Soviet bombers, flying deep into Manchukuo territory, also circled over a Japanese air base near Hailar, on the Manchouli Harbin railroad, but dropped no explosives.

Dispatches also revealed that some Soviet-outer Mongol military units remain on the Manchukuo side of the Khaba river, where they are battling Japanese-Manchukuo forces.

But the majority of the Soviet troops, it was stated, have withdrawn across the stream. Soviet artillery in the vicinity of Lake Bulir bombed Japanese positions at 8 a. m.

President Of Columbia University Says Hitler Consults Five Astrologers

WARNED OF CLIMAX OF HIS CAREER SOON

NEW YORK, July 11.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, holding the destiny of Europe and perhaps the world in his hands, is in constant consultation with five astrologers on whose readings of the stars he is basing his actions, according to information brought to America today by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

Hitler has been warned by his astrologers that the climax in his career will come in September and that if he is to make any bold stroke to add to his fame, it must be before that time, according to Dr. Butler.

"This may sound like nonsense, but it is the kind of nonsense which may give modern civilization a terrific shock," said Dr. Butler, returning from a meeting of the Carnegie endowment for international peace, of which he is president, in London.

Senators George and Gillette—both were on President Roosevelt's "purge" list in the 1938 elections—deserted the administration on the showdown. They were undecided until the last, as to how they would vote, and thus held the balance of power in the committee.

Immediately after the committee broke up Chairman Pittman said, in response to a direct question: "I should say that this is the end of neutrality legislation for this session of congress."

"I think that when an important committee like this, after months of consideration, votes 12 to 11 against action, that it will probably mean that a cross-section of the senate feels the same way."

HOUSE COMMITTEE IN SPECIAL SESSION ON W. P. A. PROTEST

of injuries suffered in a riot which preceded a fight between 100 policemen and a force of WPA strikers in Minneapolis' city hall.

First Flare-up

The riot was the first flare-up in five days of scattered strikes of WPA workers on projects throughout the nation. The strikes were in protest against abolishment of the prevailing wage rate and establishment of a 130-hour work month, which restricts the pay and lengthens the working hours of many WPA workers.

The Minneapolis incident occurred on the eve of legislative battles planned in both the house and senate by blocs of congressmen who sought to liberalize the wages and hours provisions of the act with amendments introduced in several bills.

Senator Murray (D) Montana, supported by Senators Wagner (D) New York, McCarran (D) Nevada, and others, planned to introduce in the senate today a bill to repeal the present security wage rate and substitute the prevailing wage rate used previously by the WPA.

Five similar bills—some with additional requests that would meet demands of a united labor front—were in the house.

Opposition Aroused

But Gearty's death following the violent riot at Minneapolis aroused immediate opposition from many shocked congressmen and knocked down the odds—already short—on victory for the relief act liberalization movements, which have been supported by nearly all major labor organizations.

"It is terrible," Rep. Lambertson (R) Kansas, declared when he was told about the riot and its fatal finale. "I hope that the government will not give in on this WPA strike."

"Backing the strike is the worst move the American Federation of Labor has made. It is simply copying the CIO."

(Both the large labor organizations Lambertson mentioned have expressed support of the WPA workers and their protest work stoppages. The Workers' Alliance, comprised chiefly of WPA workers, and other similar groups also have backed the strikers.)

Rep. Taber (R) New York, stated: "It goes to show that there are persons on WPA for purposes other than relief."

Deadline To Return

Today is the deadline for the return to work of many of the strikers. WPA Commissioner Harbison warned them dismissal would follow five days' idleness. His warning was issued Thursday. The five days are counted from the day on which a worker strikes. Dismissals at first are expected to be few and not of significance.

According to reports from Minneapolis, Gearty and several other patrolmen had been detailed to escort non-strikers out of a building in which a sewing project is located. He was accompanying Frank Fischer, 45, through lines of pickets to the streets when the strikers began taunting and heckling the non-striker.

Fischer, according to onlookers, leaped toward the jeering pickets. His move precipitated a mass attack on him and his escort, witnesses related. Fischer was beaten severely and Gearty was struck on the head by a reserve arrived and broke up the riot.

Gearty returned to his station-house, later complained of a pain in his head. He was taken to a hospital where he died several minutes after arrival.

In another battle, 100 policemen and a large number of strikers fought in the Minneapolis city hall. Several persons were reported bruised and beaten. Police drove 300 strikers out of the municipal building.

that Danzig is vital to Poland commercially, economically, and strategically, even though it is a German city. No "surreptitious methods" leading to a coup, or forcing Poland into military action, would be tolerated, the premier said.

No New Element

There remained this "if" in the guarantee of Poland, however—that Britain will fight only if Poland, too, thinks her independence sufficiently threatened to resist.

Even though Chamberlain's declaration introduced no new element into the situation, it crystallized the attitude of the British government in no uncertain terms for German consumption.

The British press hailed as of "historical importance" the Anglo-Polish alliance and Britain's determination to fulfill her obligations. The statement had the full approval of both France and Poland.

Although the Anglo-Soviet-French triple alliance is as much up in the air as ever today, Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky said in a speech: "peace is the fundamental aim of Soviet foreign policy—but not peace at any price."

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't endure it first and cure it afterward. Find out what's giving you the trouble.

Chances are it's simple if you eat the super-refined foods most people do: meat, white bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, you should eat a natural "bulk" producing food—such as one as the crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All- Bran. All- Bran is the ounce of prevention that's worth a pound of emergency relief. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." All- Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

At that time the Ryman family lived near the intersection of Highland and Sheridan avenues. The Forge & Bolt works eventually went on the rocks, but the elder Ryman afterwards made good in a new location. He and Mrs. Ryman have both passed away. They had ten children, and some of the boys, including George L. Ryman who was here yesterday, are operating the last plant which he started.

When Logan street, which is to be improved between Winter and Wallace avenues, is completed, the city of New Castle will have quite a frontage to pay for as it owns the east side of the street between Boyles and Parks avenues, and for some distance south of the bridge over Rural avenue. Property owners along the street are not losing any sleep worrying over what the city will have to pay. Both cartway and sidewalks are to be laid.

Home grown blackberries will soon be on the bill of fare. Already the green ones are turning the color of a girl's painted lips, and soon they will be just as sweet. There are several kinds of blackberries, starting in with the lowly dewberry, a first cousin of what common folks call the sour blackberry. The latter are not really sour, but we call them that in contrast to the queens of the blackberry tribe, the long sweet berries that melt in your mouth and taste so good that you hate to swallow them unless there are more in sight. Blackberries are so plentiful this year that everybody can gather them unless afflicted with sleeping sickness or natural born laziness.

Bicycle riding on city streets is dangerous at any time, but doubly so when the cyclist does "stunts" such as letting go of the handle bars. A pebble on the street, or failure to balance perfectly, may result in a serious "header," or a crash with an automobile. Another dangerous practice is that of a cyclist taking someone on in front of him. Such cases are seen daily. Children do not realize the danger of this performance and should be cautioned by their parents. Just because the parents may have survived such stunts, is no assurance that their children will. Better cut out "stunt" riding of all kinds.

Head Of Big Committee

McReynolds was chairman of the all-important house committee which, with the senate foreign relations committee, considers legislation touching on this country's foreign relations.

Because of his illness Rep. Sol Bloom, of New York, the next ranking Democrat, has been acting chairman. With McReynolds ill, Bloom was given the task of trying to whip the administration's cash-and-carry neutrality proposal through the committee and the house. But the house revolted and refused to discard a provision in the existing law which prohibits the sale of American munitions and arms to belligerents which President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull said was necessary to strengthen this country's position in event of a foreign war and keep this country out of the conflict.

Wall Street May Be Important If War Breaks Out

May Be Turned Into Huge International Exchange In Event Of War

BIG FINANCIAL HOUSES IN FAVOR

(International News Service)
LONDON—Big British industrialists and financiers today were reported to be in favor of having New York's "Wall Street" converted into a gigantic international exchange in the event of the close down, or restriction of other markets as the result of war.

Reports from the United States that such a step might be taken in the interest of foreign investment houses have been favorably received in London, Amsterdam and Paris.

It is the fear here that in the event of the outbreak of war some $15,000,000,000 worth of securities held by British, French and other European investors would be dumped indiscriminately on Wall Street.

Pool Reported Being Formed
According to word, circulating through London financial centers, a New York pool is quietly being formed to prepare for panic sales and to market the securities of European investors in an orderly manner.

It is understood that the pool will be made known following the formation of a corporation by leading investment trusts and insurance companies in America—backing for which is expected to come from the United States Treasury and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

This pool would offer to hand over dollars immediately for the European-held securities at an agreed price, based partly on the market price on the actual day of sale and partly on the average price for a preceding period.

Under this plan, if it is adopted, it is thought that the new corporation might temporarily sustain some losses, but that over a long period the capital loss would be more than made up.

Would Limit Declines
Its immediate purpose, however, would be to restrict price falls, and make way for a temporary reduction of margin requirements in an emergency.

In the event of hostilities, this method of security mobilization might aid Britain and France to borrow for war purposes. At the present time, as the result of the World War debt, England and France cannot borrow in the United States.

The mobilization of these securities, probably through an arrangement with the Canadian government, might provide the basis for new borrowing.

It is estimated in London that the resources of Britain and France in the United States are sufficient to allow them to pay cash for war purchases for two years of hostilities.

MYSTERY OF BREATHING STILL UNEXPLAINED

As we learned yesterday, breathing is natural to a child from the moment it is born. Although a function that begins immediately, it is somewhat inexplicable because we don't know exactly why baby takes the first all-important breath.

We do know, however, that for many weeks, or even months, before birth, the baby's diaphragm moves. During the last months of pregnancy these movements are distinctly rhythmic, just as they would be if they were being used for breathing. These movements, however, are too slight by far to dilate those small, tight masses which later become the lungs. Of course it is a good thing that these movements aren't strong enough to make the baby inhale, for there isn't any air for him to breathe.

Some researchers who have done a good deal of work in connection with this phenomenon think that these rhythmic movements of the diaphragm before birth are practice for later breathing, and that before birth the muscles are developed until they are strong enough to breathe air but not strong enough to draw in the amniotic fluid—the liquid in which the baby lies before birth. Actually, it is known that tiny amounts of this amniotic fluid are inhaled before the child is born but this is quickly absorbed by the blood and excreted through the kidneys in the same way in which swallowed fluid is disposed of.

Men who have spent a lot of time in connection with this work have performed some interesting experiments with animals. They have found, for instance, that when there is anything to stop the circulation through the umbilical cord—through which the baby animal receives nourishment from his mother's blood—the baby animal gasps immediately. This seems to be an automatic action that follows every time the circulation is subjected to interference. Some think that it is an reflex action such as this that starts a child breathing at birth.

Some scientists think that the beginning of breathing is connected with the lack of muscle tone in babies. They have discovered that, before birth, the muscles have no tone—they are completely lax; they are not elastic, or tense. But the moment the skin which covers them is exposed to air, the muscles in the body take on an immediate tension. So these scientists hold that the breath-movements of the pre-birth period are carried on and supported by the increase in muscle tone to the degree where they take care of breathing.

At times breathing does not begin as it should. When this happens the child is in very great danger. Of all the children who die at birth, by far the greatest number die of prematurity. Of those, prematurity itself is not a cause of death, but most premature children do not begin breathing properly and that is why they so often die. That is what makes the survival of the quintuplets such a miracle. They were five babies, born at once, and all two months premature. It would have been the most natural thing to have found a couple of them who couldn't breathe. But we got them all started and they kept it up. I know personally that a great many babies who are recorded as still births—born dead—could be made to live if breathing could be induced.

Gives Some Suggestions For Drowning Rescues

Charles Brest, chairman of life saving and water safety of Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross, gives to the people of Lawrence county suggestions of assisting in rescuing. He calls to your attention the matter of thinking first and then acting.

The first thought anyone has upon seeing a person in distress is to jump in to assist. Such action may bring about the death of two people. Mr. Brest calls attention to the different simple assists which may be used by those unfortunate enough to witness a near drowning.

Throwing of different floating articles such as planks, paddles, oars, rope or a branch of a tree, if handy, will always give the victim something to hang on to until aid may come. Taking one's own shirt and throwing it to the person would be enough to permit the would-be rescuer to hold on to it and would give the victim something to grasp.

It is brought out by Mr. Brest in his work with the different courses conducted by the chapter that individuals usually become panicky and due to this panic more serious accidents are caused. Therefore, places in and about New Castle to have a very definite idea of what is available to use for any kind of rescue work.

Mr. Brest calls attention to the classes being formed throughout the summer months giving instructions in life saving and water safety. This is not only available to adults but to the growing child as well. Any one interested in this course should call the chapter office for further information.

See McNutt As Running Mate If Roosevelt Seeks Third Term

Politicians See New Maneuver

New Appointment For McNutt Seen As Move In Direction Of 1940 Ticket

CHOICE JOB WILL BE GIVEN McNUTT

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Political circles were predicting today that Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, would have the inside track for the vice presidential nomination in 1940 in the event President Roosevelt decides to run for a third term.

Politicians reached this conclusion as a result of the president's reported decision to appoint the retiring high commissioner to the Philippines as head of the new federal security agency—one of the choicest jobs in the government service.

Support "The Boss"

They recalled that McNutt, an active candidate for the presidential nomination if Mr. Roosevelt does not run, had said he would give loyal support to "the boss" in any third term effort. His placement in a key post of the government would be designed to draw him closer into the New Deal family.

It appeared, however, that Indiana's former governor made one very careful bargain with the president when he agreed to head up the Federal security agency—an agreement that efforts in his behalf as head of the 40 ticket might continue unabated until such time as Mr. Roosevelt makes his final decision.

This agreement will give McNutt quite an advantage over other Democratic hopefuls in the 1940 sweepstakes because as federal security administrator his name will soon become impressed on millions of people. The new set-up embraces social security, public health, CCC, the bureau of education and the National Youth Administration.

New Revelations In State Scandal

Louisiana Sinks Deeper Into Mire—Charge Forgery On State Bonds

By WILLIAM G. GAUDET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 11.—Louisiana sank deeper into the mire of scandal today as revelations were made that the signature of the late Gov. O. K. Allen had been forged to $18,000 worth of State University bonds.

This statement was made by Attorney General David Ellison, who first said he believed that Dr. James Monroe Smith, resigned president of Louisiana State University, now held in jail on an embezzlement charge, had forged the bonds, but later stated that if authorities could definitely prove the bonds were signed by Dr. Smith, formal charges of forgery would be made.

Under Long Regime

Allen served as governor under the regime of the late Huey P. Long and died in office in the fall of 1935.

The attorney general's statement came as additional indictments were being prepared against Dr. Smith in two separate parishes in Baton Rouge and Orleans.

In East Baton Rouge parish, it was expected the grand jury investigating the alleged LSU irregularities will rewrite its indictment of Dr. Smith on the embezzlement charge and add a forgery charge.

Meanwhile in New Orleans District Attorney Charles A. Byrne announced his preliminary investigation has been completed and that he will file two bills of information against Dr. Smith.

Four Pickets Are Taken In Clash

Arrests Made In Skirmish At Pontiac Plant Of Fisher Body Company

(International News Service)

PONTIAC, Mich., July 11.—Four CIO automobile workers union pickets today were arrested after a brief skirmish with police at the struck General Motors Corporation Fisher Body plant.

Massed before the gate at an early hour were 800 unionists. As workers began arriving at the gates the pickets barred their entrance and opposed police efforts to force a way through the mass.

Rocking were hurled and clubs swung. Two windshields were smashed in the melee.

Only 25 workers entered the plant. The fighting was a recurrence of yesterday's skirmish when nearly 500 pickets pushed back police and company officials in a set-to in front of the plant.

The tool and dies workers struck last Wednesday in a "slow pressure" strike designed to force General Motors to negotiate a supplementary agreement to the existing contract, covering wages and working conditions for skilled workers and maintenance workers.

The strike threatens to curtail seriously 1940 model production, GM officials said, and throw thousands of workers into idleness.

Union leaders said they would increase the pressure by calling out more plants daily until the company entered into negotiations.

Federal mediator James F. Dewey, in Detroit to mediate the dispute has admitted failure to bring union leaders and company officials into a conference.

Hints On Etiquette

At this time of year thousands of people are sending postcards to friends. Remember to write your full name, or at least your first name, and not merely initials. Even the initials of intimate friends may puzzle the receiver, at least for a time, and annoy him or her.

The first of the Braham family to settle in Lawrence county was Hugh Braham. He was born and reared in County Down, Ireland. He married Agnes Sampel. They had one son, Samuel. Hugh Braham became involved in the Rebellion of the Irish people under the movement known as the United Men of Ireland, one of the few times in Irish history when protestants and catholics combined. The movement failed and he was obliged to flee to the United States. In 1792 he came with his family and settled in Central Pennsylvania in the Kishacoquillas Valley east of Huntingdon. There a daughter Jinnie was born. In 1807 Hugh Braham with his family came to what was then the backwoods country and bought a farm near New Castle, substantially southwest of old Neshannock church in Hickory township. In addition to farming he and his son, Samuel, became cattle merchants, buying herds of stock and driving them over the mountains to Philadelphia for sale. On one of these trips in 1822 he was taken ill and died. Samuel Braham served during the War of 1812 with the forces of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry. He married Mary Ann Patton, a daughter of William Patton who came from the north of Ireland with the Brahams, and his sister Jinnie married that William Patton who was the ancestor of the family of that name still residing on the original family lands in Hickory township. Samuel Braham, in addition to continuing the cattle business, bought a loom, hired a weaver and established one of the first weaving shops in the frontier community. About 1834 Samuel Braham sold his lands in Lawrence county and removed to a farm in Mercer township, Butler county, Penna., near Harrisville, Pa., where he lived and reared a family of three sons and eight daughters. From 1834 to about 1900 the Braham family was known as a Butler county family rather than a Lawrence county family, the family seat being near Harrisville. There remained in Lawrence county however, two of the daughters of Samuel Braham, namely Mrs. S. E. McCleary, who married a member of the prominent McCleary family of the West Side, and is still living in New Castle at the age of 93 years and her sister, Miss Belle Braham. The Butler county branch of the family produced a number of legislators, college presidents, judges and other prominent persons, the majority, however being farmers.

Hugh Patton Braham was the oldest son of Samuel Braham. He married Anna Mifflin, a descendant of the Mifflin family well known in early Pennsylvania history.

About 1900 Robert R. Braham, a son of Hugh P. Braham, removed to Volant and in 1911 removed to New Wilmington, Pa., where his family of three sons and four daughters were all graduated in due course from Westminster College. One of the sons of Robert R. Braham is William Walter Braham, the present President Judge of Lawrence county.

When they came to this country the Brahams belonged to the Reformed Presbyterian church, commonly known as Covenanters and so continued until the founding of the United Presbyterian church, since which time most of them have adhered to that denomination.

Rotary Members Hear GNCA Head

Andrews Speaks At Monday Session—Discusses Organization Conditions

Declaring that "business still is dependent upon communities and communities likewise are dependent upon business," Arthur H. Andrews, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, told New Castle Rotarians yesterday of the fundamentals of the operations of an organization such as the came here in June to direct.

It was the first formal public address here of the man brought to New Castle by the new civic organization which aims, through a long-range community-development program, to expand the city and make it greater.

Last night Andrews spoke to the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Rotary club heard him at its luncheon in the Elks club at noon.

While presenting the high spots of some of his association's objectives, the new executive, introduced by Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr of St. Joseph's church, told the Rotarians that all activities of the GNCA, as he sees things, fall into two divisions:

First: Those that concern federal, state, county and local governmental regulation and taxes.

And second: Miscellaneous productive and protective activities.

Andrews had met the Rotary members informally several weeks ago, but yesterday was the first time he had spoken to them.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

How often is cancer the cause of indigestion?

At what ages is this condition most pronounced?

Records were made of 4,656 patients complaining of indigestion.

Before the age of 25 cancer was rarely the cause of indigestion.

Up to age 40, 2.7 per cent of dyspeptics had cancer.

After 45, cancer was a frequent cause of indigestion.

After 70, 58 per cent of men with indigestion had cancer.

Dyspepsia foreruns of cancer more often in men than in women.

Men seem to develop the condition earlier in life than women.

After 40, self-medication for indigestion is hazardous.

Cancer of the stomach becomes progressively harder to treat.

Adult persons with indigestion should seek a diagnosis early.

Some Motorists Will Get "Break"

Motorists who have not yet secured their license tags for their automobiles get a break this year, due to the new law which calls for plates to be renewed on March 31, instead of December 31st.

Half rates which have always gone on on August 1st will be in effect this year on the same date instead of October 1 as was first anticipated. A set of plates which cost $10 on January 1, 1939 will cost $5 on August 1 and will be good for eight months.

Operators' licenses will be a month short this year. The new operators' licenses will be renewed on February 1 instead of March according to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club.

Tokyo Paper Tells How Japan Would Defeat Britain

(International News Service)

TOKYO, July 11.—Victory for Japan in a naval war with Great Britain was predicted by the newspaper Yomiuri Shimbun today in a special article admitting the possibility that hostilities might develop from the incident at Tientsin.

Stressing Japan's determination for a complete alteration of Britain's policies in the far east, the newspaper dwelt upon Britain's inability to defend her far eastern bases.

"Strained relations in Europe," Yomiuri said, "will prevent Britain from sending anything but a very few capital ships and cruisers in the far east. Britain will be compelled to concentrate her naval force at Singapore instead of Hong Kong, which would be exposed to Japanese attacks."

Singapore however, would easily fall before the Japanese forces, which would probably not find it difficult to conquer the entire Malay Peninsula.

Singapore would be menaced by Japanese aircraft, Yomiuri said, and capture of this port will "signal collapse of the entire British defense system in the Orient."

Packing Industry Strikes Forecast

Report C. I. O. Will Seek To Force Action Against Concerns In Fall

By JACK VINCENT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Look for a wave of C.I.O. strikes in the nation's important meat packing industry this fall.

That was the word filtering out of C.I.O. headquarters today as John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O., prepared to go to Chicago next week to take personal command of the C.I.O. drive against the "Big Four" packing companies — Armour, Wilson, Cudahy and Swift.

Lewis will use the national convention of the C.I.O.'s Packing Workers Organizing committee on July 16 as a sounding board to deliver an ultimatum to the meat packing companies.

One reason for Lewis' trip to Chicago will be to help focus public attention on the meeting. The C. I. O. was planning to move slowly before calling a strike, and if it moves against the packers it will take on one company at a time in order not to cause a meat shortage.

Hughes Will Seek Supreme Court Post

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 11.—Reports that Judge Howard W. Hughes, president judge of the Washington County Common Pleas Court, would be a candidate in the fall primary for the state supreme court were strengthened Monday when Ralph W. Peacock, president of the Washington County Bar Association, applied to the elections bureau for the necessary petitions.

Peacock requested the nomination petitions in a telegram to the elections bureau enclosing a fee for 60 blanks.

Judge Hughes, who presided over the Brownmiller trial and was then relieved at his own request so he could pursue his election campaign, could not be immediately reached for comment. He is now in Harrisburg attending to details of the Brownmiller case.

There is a vacancy in the office of Judge of Election in the sixth precinct of the third ward. Judge Thomas W. Dickey will make an appointment.

Notes of testimony have been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of Chester Franklin McCance against Mary McCance Pennell and Josephine McCance Pennell. The case is one involving a dispute over rents of property in which the litigants are interested.

A writ of replevin has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Roy H. La Coe against Eli M. and Julia Byler, to recover possession of a tractor over which there is some dispute.

Hearing was held before Judge Thomas W. Dickey yesterday in an application of Francisco De Luca and his wife Refina De Luca to have their names changed to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearl. The testimony showed that when their children started to school in Taylor township the family adopted the name of Pearl, it being more to the liking of the family. Since then the petitioners, as well as their children, have been going under the name of Pearl. The testimony showed that there are no judgments filed against petitioners and no objections were raised by any one to the change of name. Judge Dickey granted the petition. All of the children's names were joined in the petition.

Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds is making out a list of about one thousand names of persons whose registrations will be cancelled for failure to comply with the registration laws. The law requires the clerk to send out notices to all voters once every four years to learn if there has been any change in the original registration as to party or residence. If the cards are not returned through the postoffice department, it is presumed that they have been delivered and that the registration is alright. Two men are then sent around to check the names of persons whose cards have come back. If no satisfactory return is made the names are stricken from the list.

Testimony taken before Judge Thomas W. Dickey in the case of the City of New Castle against the County of Lawrence Institution District and the School District of Shenango township, was filed by Court Stenographer, F. M. Rowland, yesterday. It is quite voluminous covering 233 typewritten pages. The case is one in which the City of New Castle is seeking to have certain tax liens stricken from the municipal golf course and Cascade park property. A decision will be handed down later.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey will hear an appeal of Anthony Lagnese of Hillsville tomorrow in which he is asking to have an order of the Liquor Control board refusing him a license, set aside. Lagnese claims that the asked for a restaurant license and that the board refused it on the grounds that he was not the sole proprietor, was not going to operate a bona fide eating place, and was employed elsewhere and therefore not going to give the place his personal supervision. After the board had refused the application the case was heard in Erie and again refused. Lagnese denies the charges on which the application was refused and claims to be ready to give the place his undivided attention.

Rubin Is Defeated By Sparky Jorosik; Moran, Chambers Win

FIGHT RESULTS
First bout: Alex Saver, Cecil, defeated Pete Pope, Youngstown, 112 pounds.
Second bout: Wesley Rodgers, Grove City, was awarded the decision over Joe Ciannacci, Pittsburgh, 148 pounds.
Third bout: Ken Werner, Pittsburgh, defeated Ray Crews, Ellwood City, 138 pounds.
Fourth bout: "Buck" Chambers, West Pittsburg, scored second round technical kayo over Frank Bordo, Cecil, 155 pounds.
Fifth bout: Frankie Moran, New Castle, technical knockout winner in first round over Bill Warnick, Cecil, 130 pounds.
Sixth bout: Pete Spoti, Cecil, defeated Andy Wertz, Youngstown, 138 pounds.
Seventh bout: Sam Seerett, Pittsburgh, won the decision over Jimmy West, Pittsburgh, 150 pounds.
Eighth bout: Sparky Jorosik, Cecil, won the decision over Mickey Rubin, New Castle, heavyweight division.

As close to 1,000 excited spectators cheered on, "Sparky" Jorosik, of Cecil, and Mickey Rubin, New Castle, tore into each other like a pair of wildcats in the feature bout of Monday's amateur boxing show staged by the Jeff A. C. in The Arena. Jorosik, who was equipped with an Herculean like frame, charged into the localite from the opening bell and was the winner when it ended.
The Cecil scrapper was all over Rubin. As the bell sounded at the end of the first, Jorosik connected with a solid right to the jaw which didn't do Mickey any good. In the next set, he slugged all the way with Jorosik having a decided edge. Rubin couldn't master his foe's style. In the last round, Rubin tried hard for a kayo, once landing his Sunday punch. Jorosik shook it off and continued lambasting Rubin. The visiting heavyweight was a winner by a good country mile.
The semi-final was so likened to a baseball game. The battery found Sammy Seerett, Cecil, pitching and Jimmy West, Pittsburgh, catching. Seerett, a clever leather tosser, dished out lots of punishment. West stood back and was satisfied to absorb the punches. Seerett got the nod. They fought in the 150 pound class.

Pete Spoti, Cecil, proved one of the sweetest gladiators on the card, winning over the experienced Andy Wertz, of Youngstown, in the sixth round. Spoti shook Wertz with a barrage of short jabs several times. The Ohioan managed to last, however. The bout was one of the best on the card. They fought in the 138 pound class.
Moran Scores "Kayo"
New Castle's Frankie Moran wasted no time on Bill Warnick, Cecil. During most of the first round, Warnick was able to cover up nicely as Moran charged in and fired a fusillade of hard lefts and rights. In the dying moments of the chapter, Moran got his foe in a corner and shot across a left and right which panicked Warnick. McMahon, referee, halted the fight, shortly after, awarding Moran a technical knockout. They fought in the 130 pound division.
Chambers Wins
"Buck" Chambers, West Pittsburg, defeated Ray Crews, Ellwood City, 138 pounds.

MEET FOR LIGHTHEAVY TITLE

Melio Bettina
Pittsburgh's sensational light-heavy fighter, Billy Conn, seen by some boxing experts as the only "white hope" to take Joe Louis' title if Conn ever puts on enough weight, goes to the ring with Bettina on the night of July 13 in New York when he seeks Melio Bettina's light heavyweight title. Bettina succeeded to the title vacated by John Henry Lewis when he kayoed Tiger Jack Fox of Spokane, Wash., in January.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

So the Yankees can't be beaten... Oh, yeah! Those Boston Red Sox are laughing up their sleeves and the Cincinnati Reds regret that the world series doesn't start tomorrow. That, in a few words, explains how badly the supposed to be champs look at the present. The Red Sox are sorry that their current series at Yankee Stadium lasted such a short time. In a week, the Cronin's would be heading the parade. When fellows like Jake Wade, Dickman, Ostermuller and a few other guys (Bob Grove excluded from this list of course) by the name of Joe lick the greatest baseball machine (???) the incident is further proof that anything can happen in sports and that there isn't such a thing as invincibility. They laughed at Pittsburgh's accordion act last September. The Bucs' tail spin was only a minor occurrence compared to the present oddity. It's a good thing Joe DiMaggio has been in the lineup. Otherwise, the Yankees would have looked like the Brownies or Phillies. Manhattan fans, who are accustomed to seeing precision on the field and cannon, like blasting on the part of the Yankees, sat in on some first class slap stick comedy. In Sunday's nightcaps, the champs appeared in the role of jugglers. Although we don't believe the slump will last long, so does Joe McCarthy and the parley pickers, the present episode is worth remembering. The travesty teaches men of the sporting world a dear, dear lesson, anything can happen in sports.
Local sport jottings... Mike Kraynack, Ellwood City's hard hitting mittman is regaining his place in district boxing circles. Sometime ago Kraynack decided to hang up the mitts. Several weeks ago, he started anew. His comeback has resulted in a pair of triumphs over highly rated foes. He is regaining the post he held when he was mowing down Joe after Joe. Tonight, the Ellwoodian crawls through the ropes to face another top ranking foe. He appears in the Booster club show in Farrell, along with Mickey Rubin. Billy Reale, Princeton's star amateur boxer, has been scoring one hit after another in various towns. In Meadville, Reale has won a host of friends. A couple of nights ago, Reale picked himself off the floor and scored a kayo, much to the liking of Meadville fans.

Connie Mack To Listen To Game

Veteran Slated To Manage American All-Stars Today, Confined To Bed By Illness
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Although still confined to his bed by illness, Connie Mack planned to listen-in on radio descriptions of today's all-star baseball game in New York.
The veteran manager of the A's was to have directed the American League entry, but was forced to forego the honor after being stricken with a recurrent gall bladder ailment in Boston two weeks ago.
Victories by the White Elephants are the team's best tonic and if they win a few during the 12-game western tour which starts Thursday at Chicago, Connie may be able to take over the helm again when the club returns to Shibe Park. Since Mack's illness, the A's have won but two games and lost nine.

Alice Faye Hurls Pie Back At Buster Keaton

By BURDETTE JAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, July 11.—Alice Faye couldn't resist the temptation to throw a custard pie and get even with Buster Keaton. For several hours on the set of "Hollywood Cavalcade" story of early motion picture days. Buster had been heaving pies at her. Then a close up was needed and a makeup man stood ready with a pie to retouch Alice with a little more realism. Buster camped, too, which proved to be his mistake. Miss Faye grabbed the pie from the makeup man and scored a perfect hit at close range on Buster's dead pan. "I simply couldn't resist," said Alice as she apologized to Keaton.

Many male stars in Hollywood have personal trainers, but Judy Garland probably is first feminine celebrity to have one. Judy's trainer is Bobbie Koshay, 1928 Olympic swimmer. She's also the star's standing in "Babe in Arms." At night and on days away from the studio she puts Judy through a vigorous schedule. Although swimming and diving head the program, Miss Koshay to avert monotony also includes tennis, badminton and hiking.

It should be an amusing scene if they ever succeed in getting it. In "On Your Toes" Alan Hale is asking the stammering Eddie Albert some questions with machine-gun rapidity, and getting "da" (yes in Russian) for an answer. Frank McHugh is standing open-mouthed. His cue comes, but he's forgotten his line and acts like a fish out of water. "What do you want me to do, judge you on that 'cue' asks Albert. 'Yes,' chimed in Hale looking at McHugh with a scowl, "how about a little cooperation from some of these amateur actors the casting office keeps sending in?" Just a minute interrupted director Ray Enright. "You all, were about eight cues ahead on that line. Let's try it again. With a little luck maybe we can get this scene in a couple of days," McHugh had the laugh Hale, the chagrin.

Chitter-chatter: Busby Berkeley presented Mickey Rooney with one of those tone pitch things and Mickey is wondering if it's any reflection on his singing in his latest epic... Lionel Barrymore built a netting-covered runway for his Scotty dogs, Johnny and Sally, on his San Fernando valley ranch after watching an eagle, apparently from the towering nearby Santa Susana mountains, swoop down and fly away with a big jackrabbit... Feodor Chaliapin, Jr., son of the late famous Russian singer, walked onto the set of "Balalaika" and unexpectedly met a boy-hood friend, Count Andrew Tolstoy, grand nephew of Count Leo Tolstoy.

Those worry wrinkles in Frank Morgan's noble brow are because he's got to ride a bucking broncho in "Henry Goes to Arizona." Frank used to be a cowboy in New Mexico before turning actor, but it's been years and years since he's done any riding, with the exception of one experience at Palm Springs which ended disastrously in a cactus patch. The script calls for him to ride "one of the wildest broncos available" and says Morgan: "If I do fall off, I hope the horse will be gentleman enough not to take advantage of me with a kick from the rear."

Huge Plane Starts On Long Journey To English Base

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 11.—Aided by excellent flying weather, the huge consolidated 28-5, a fifteen-ton flying boat built in San Diego for the British air ministry was winging its way across the continent today in easy style, and rapidly nearing its goal, Botwood, Newfoundland.

The plane is being ferried to England, and Botwood will be the only stop en route. Pilot Russell Rogers was believed to be east of Chicago shortly after midnight. He radioed that he had passed over Kansas City and was flying on the radio beam into Chicago, keeping the craft at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Rogers said he hoped to make the cross country hop in 22 hours.

Adjustment In Milk Price Soon Shaw Announces

Some adjustment in the prices to milk producers for their product will be announced about August by the chairman of the Milk Control Board, it was stated today by John B. Shaw, president of the Keystone Milk Producers Association.

Some weeks ago Mr. Shaw headed a delegation of protest at a meeting with the board in Pittsburgh and has just returned from Harrisburg where he again argued the case with the board. He states that the chairman assured him of an announcement around the first of August which would adjust at least in part the present prices for milk which the producers insist is unfair to them.
